

Secondary first on-campus day: Monday, August 06, 2018

For parents, students, and teachers

The first official secondary day begins with a special schedule, shared experience for students, parents and teachers.

- Students, parents, and teachers will begin by attending a joint opening session on the year's emphases, new opportunities, and changes in operation for the new school year.
- Students will then visit each class on their schedule for half-hour abbreviated class sessions to meet teachers, to experience jump-start exercises, and to receive a syllabus for each course.
- While students attend classes, parents will receive special info to help better equip them in their UMS role, important for both returning and new parents.
- All students, parents, and teachers are invited to enjoy lunch together.
- In the afternoon, students and teachers will enjoy fellowship activities, followed by a family dinner that includes all secondary families, including siblings. The evening will be capped by a session of prayer and praise.
